LYNCHED BY A MOB.

Fiend Lytle Taken from Jail and Hanged.

HIS BODY RIDDLED BY BULLETS.

Indignant Citizens Avenge the Bloody Work Done by Joseph Lytle at Findlay, Ohio—His Victims Still Alive and May Possibly Recover.

FINLAY, O., April 1.—Joseph Lytle, the fiend who crushed the skulls of his wife and two daughters Wednesday, paid the awful penalty yesterday morning. He was taken from the jail by a masked mob, about 1 o'clock, and lynched, his body being riddled with bullets.

The mob formed near the jail and numbered only about twenty-five men, but before the mob was ready for action, it had swelled to nearly 1,000. They marched to the jail and demanded the keys of the sheriff. This was refused, and the mob proceeded to batter down the doors of the jail with a heavy drill used in boring gas wells.

Meanwhile the mob outside kept shouting for those inside to "bring him out."

When the mob appeared at the door with Lytle a shout of encouragement went up.

Lytle was game, but had nothing to say. Once the mob got him outside the jail he was marched toward the Main street bridge.

The police were present and saw what was going on, but no attempt was made to stop the work of the mob.

When the mob reached the bridge Officer Burns boldly pushed his way into the crowd and made a hard struggle to quiet the clamors of the mob or get the doomed man out of their clutches. He fought them for fully five minutes, but as some members threw out the rope and tossed it over the iron girders at the top of the bridge the crowd was scattered and Burns was overpowered and compelled to stand back.

Some further time was spent in trying to quiet the crowd, who kept up a continual series of yells. Finally some one climbed up the iron frame of the bridge and shifted the rope over to the middle of the roadway and then another yell went up, and further time was spent in getting the rope around Lytle's neck and in binding his hands. When this was done one hundred hands grasped the end of the rope, and in a moment the body was raised perhaps four feet from the ground.

Then some one fired a revolver, and the bullet cut the rope, letting Lytle fall to the ground.

The end of the rope was seized and the mob, with a big shout, started south. They went to the corner of Front street, and there, in front of Stevens' pawn-broker store, the rope was thrown over one of the iron spikes as used as steps on a telegraph pole. Some member of the mob climbed up and fixed the rope, but did not take it up very high, so that when the end of the rope was again pulled the body rested only a couple of feet from the ground.

After it had hung a minute or two, there were cries of "burn the body," but to this there were a hundred noes. For a minute or two there seemed to be a lull, as if no one knew what to do next. The end of the rope was then tied around the base of the pole, and a cry sent up "to put some bullets in him." In an instant a dozen shots were fired and following one another. It is said that there were sixteen bullet holes in the body.

Probably 500 people remained around the spot out of curiosity until 3 o'clock, at which time Coroner Howell arrived and ordered the body cut down. This was done, and it was taken to Smith's undertaking rooms.

The coroner has not determined when he will hold an inquest.

Dr. McLachlin, one of the physicians in attendance upon Mrs. Sarah Lytle, Della Lytle and Emma Lytle, says that there is a good prospect that they would recover. Their injuries are of a very serious character, and it is too early to speak confidentially, but every present symptom is favorable, and there is all occasion to hope for the best. The patients are resting nicely. Many supposed at first that Della was dead, and Mrs. Lytle could not recover. This report was circulated through the mob at the jail, and was probably set in motion for a purpose. There was no basis whatever for the story.

TOO MUCH WATER.

Great Damage Done by Spring Floods in Dakota and Eastern Montana.

ST. PAUL, April 1.—Reports from North Dakota and eastern Montana indicate the greatest spring floods in ten years. The James river is rising very rapidly. At Jamestown, N. D., the water is seven feet deep in the Russell Miller mill and still rising. Residents all along the river are preparing to move to higher ground. To the south of Grafton, N. D., is a lake reaching for miles into the country. The river is higher than it has been since 1880. Northern Pacific trains are held a few miles below there on account of the high water.

In Montana there are washouts in every direction, the Northern being the chief sufferer. The main break occurred on the Montana division between Wellington and Springbrook, and was caused by the overflow of the Missouri's tributaries, which at this time of the year are fed by the melting snow from the Rockies. The flood carried away a bridge and twelve miles of track and trestle, blocking everything. It will take thirty-six hours to repair the road.

CANTON, O., April 1.—Charles A. Shaw, principal of the high school, died of blood poisoning following an attack of inflammation of the bowels.

DYNAMITE SCHOOLS. They Are Said to Exist in Chicago, New York and Boston.

CHICAGO, April 1.—"There is a dynamite school here in Chicago," said a prominent labor officer, who came here several weeks ago to assist in the settlement of a strike which was in progress. He continued, says a morning paper: "There is also one in Boston and another in New York. The information came to me from a source which is absolutely reliable and was unsought and undesired on my part. The matter came up in a discussion of the question whether or not it is necessary for labor organizations to employ physical force in order to carry on the struggle for shorter hours of labor and better pay—in other words a larger share of the profits of labor. My informant was a believer in physical force and held the doctrine that the thorough organization of labor and the discovery of dynamite were the two things which would eventually bring about the equalization of the profits of labor between the employer and employee. He claimed that the great mass of men who produce the wealth which eventually drifts into the hands of the few were always surrounded and awed by legalized force, and if the laborer did not meet force with force his condition must gradually sink until he would become a slave. He claimed that to offset the elaborate establishments of armed civil and military forces which capital has set up dynamite offered a simple and effective weapon to the unorganized masses.

Claiming that a few of the advanced thinkers in this labor reform movement had recognized the importance of training up a trusted few in the use of dynamite as an offensive weapon they had established the school referred to, and offered to back up his assertion by taking me to the Boston establishment.

This story of the labor official has been corroborated so far as Chicago is concerned by a telegram from Paris Wednesday to the effect that the bombs which have been found there were made on the plan of the Chicago model.

Police Inspector Schaak, who knows as much about anarchy and its followers as any one else in the city, says, with reference to the story that the bombs now in use in Paris were made in this city: "I am inclined to think that they are using Chicago made bombs for several reasons, the principal of which is that the style of bombs that are made in this city are vastly more destructive than anything that the French dynamiters have ever constructed."

"Are there any bombs now in Chicago?" the inspector was asked. "Plenty of them. On one occasion a cart load of bombs were taken away from a certain place where they were manufactured, and no one has yet been able to locate them. I believe they are in the city and ready to be used in case of trouble. There is also a lot of about 900 bombs secreted, but where the police have not yet been able to tell. I believe these bombs are divided up among the most faithful and trustworthy. Aside from this stock there are additional resources for the people who use them. At present there are probably 200 men in this city who know how to make dynamite bombs and who can make them by their own kitchen stoves at night."

MURDERED BY MOONSHINERS.

A Threat Made Sometime Ago Believed to Have Been Carried Out.

PITTSBURG, April 1.—A special to The Times from Somerset, Pa., says: John Hochstetler, of this place, was undoubtedly murdered near Trent Postoffice, fifteen miles from here, by moonshiners yesterday. A young man named Beals, who left on his way to his sister's house yesterday, while traveling along a lonely spot on the road near Trent saw two men in ambush fire upon a man a short distance away. The man fell and the two men proceeded to knock their victim on the head with their guns.

Young Beals fled from the spot and took another route to his sister's home. On arriving there he told the story he had witnessed on the road. A party are now searching for the murderers.

Some months ago at Scranton John Hochstetler testified against moonshiners of this county. The moonshiners' companions threatened to kill him, and as he went to Trent yesterday and has not been seen since it is believed they carried out their threats and threw the body in a creek.

Theater Balcony Gives Way.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 1.—The Can't Be Worse Dramatic company attempted to give a performance at the Bijou theater last night, called "The Defeated Candidates." During the performance the audience began presenting the actors with eggs, carrots and brickbats from the galleries, and in the excitement the balcony gave way, throwing a number of people to the lower floor, a distance of fifteen feet. Several were injured and were taken to the hospital. The most seriously injured were: Alexander Jacobowitz, Frank McGann and Jacob Wulschlager.

Chilian Refugees.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Two of the most important persons who took refuge in the United States legation at Santiago on the downfall last year of President Balmaceda, arrived in New York Wednesday on the Pacific Mail steamship Newport, from Colon. They are Julio Banados Espinoza and J. E. McKenna, members of the so-called dictator's cabinet during the crucial process of his administration.

Governor McKinley in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Governor McKinley, of Ohio, arrived in Washington yesterday en route to Rhode Island, where he will take part in the state campaign, which closes next Wednesday. The governor was in good health and spirits, but declined to talk on politics for publication.

PHOENIX, A. T., April 1.—Dispatches from various points along the Mexican frontier state that cattlemen are very much exercised over the peremptory order from the Mexican government to move all cattle over the line by April 10 under penalty of confiscation for customs duties. The law has been regarded as a dead letter for some time and cattlemen are preparing to resist any attempt to enforce the measure, and many have armed their cowboys for this purpose.

RAILROAD WRECKS.

Freight Train Runs Into an Open Switch.

FIVE MEN HURT, SOME FATALY.

An Engine and Thirteen Cars Demolished Through Carelessness—Passenger Train Wrecked on the Louisville and Nashville Road—Horror Averted Near Akron, Ohio—Other Railroad Accidents.

PRINCETON, Ind., April 1.—A terrible case of negligence occurred on the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis railway yesterday. Train No. 74, going east and running about twenty miles an hour, ran in an open switch at Beck's siding and dashed into some freight cars. The engine, with thirteen cars loaded with wheat and corn, was completely demolished.

The following were injured:

W. O. Wright, hind brakeman, head and face badly cut; back, both legs and one arm mashed. He is also internally injured.

Engineer John Rosenberg, head cut and shoulder crushed and internally injured.

Peter Delany, fireman, head and face badly cut.

Conductor Harry Cramps, badly rolled and bruised; not seriously.

T. J. Roberts, brakeman, head and face terribly cut, legs and arms badly crushed. Roberts' injuries are more serious than any of the others.

The injured men were brought to this city. It is supposed the section men left the switch open.

A CAR ON FIRE.

An Exciting and Disastrous Blaze Caused by an Explosion.

AKRON, O., April 1.—While train No. 3, westbound, on the Erie, was running forty-five miles an hour Wednesday night near Barberton, this county, the illuminating gas apparatus in the parlor coach exploded and almost immediately the car was enveloped in flames.

Many passengers had narrow escapes from the burning coach, but all finally reached other cars. Conductor Moore, of Kent, was painfully burned. The train was stopped and the burning car cut out, but not until a Pullman sleeper had been badly damaged. Loss about $5,000.

"Are there any bombs now in Chicago?" the inspector was asked.

"Plenty of them. On one occasion a cart load of bombs were taken away from a certain place where they were manufactured, and no one has yet been able to locate them. I believe they are in the city and ready to be used in case of trouble. There is also a lot of about 900 bombs secreted, but where the police have not yet been able to tell. I believe these bombs are divided up among the most faithful and trustworthy. Aside from this stock there are additional resources for the people who use them. At present there are probably 200 men in this city who know how to make dynamite bombs and who can make them by their own kitchen stoves at night."

Passenger Train Wrecked.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 1.—Near Evergreen, Ala., on the Mobile and Montgomery division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad yesterday a freight train broke in two, and three wild cars ran back and collided with the northbound express.

R. M. Lyons, of Atlanta, a mail weigher, returning home from New Orleans, was instantly killed. Express Messenger Archie Johnson and Engineer Pat Ryan, both of Montgomery, were seriously hurt, and Postal Clerk Thomas slightly hurt. The engine, baggage and mail cars were demolished.

Collision on the Baltimore and Ohio.

ZANESVILLE, O., April 1.—Two cars loaded with brick, at Harris' brickyard, broke away on the belt line here yesterday, ran down a steep grade at a terrific rate of speed, a mile through the city, and collided with a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train on the bridge over the river. The engine and baggage car were completely demolished. No one was seriously injured, though there were several narrow escapes.

Derailment of a Passenger Train.

OTTAWA, April 1.—Canadian Pacific passenger train No. 5, Montreal for Sault Ste. Marie, was derailed at Hull yesterday afternoon. Thomas Golden, fireman, was killed and M. O'Connell, engineer, fatally scalded. All the passengers escaped.

THE EXTERMINATION PLAN

To Be Tried on Cattle Thieves by Wyoming Stock Raisers.

LANDER, Wyo., April 1.—A band of cattle thieves have for a long time been committing numerous depredations east and south of the National park, and courts have been unable to convict them. The cattle men have resolved to take matters in their own hands, and nearly 200 of them met near here a day or two ago and have started for the stronghold of the thieves. All are heavily armed, and declare they will not return until they have killed the thieves. If they carry out their threats it is probable that from seventy-five to a hundred of the so-called "cattle rustlers" will go permanently out of the stock.

Forgers Discovered.

NILES, Mich., April 1.—The people of Berrien Springs and vicinity are greatly excited over the fact just become public, that Samuel Bishop, a young man of that place, has perpetrated forgeries to a large amount. He has always been counted thoroughly reliable. There is said to be in existence $7,000 worth of paper to which he has forged the name of his father-in-law, Jacob Krce. Of this amount $2,000 is held by the banks of Niles. The remainder is held by farmers near Berrien Springs.

Cattlemen Excited.

PHOENIX, A. T., April 1.—Dispatches from various points along the Mexican frontier state that cattlemen are very much exercised over the peremptory order from the Mexican government to move all cattle over the line by April

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Continued warm and fair on Friday, followed by occasional rain and severe local storms Friday night or Saturday; south winds.

WHAT'S the matter with Hon. Jay H. Northup for delegate from the Ninth district to the National Democratic Convention?

MRS. LAVINA J. HIATT, widow of William T. Hiatt, of Reynoldsburg, Bath Co., has been granted a pension of $8 per month from July 31, 1890. Mr. John Walsh was her attorney.

THE Republican gerrymander of Ohio, as arranged several days ago, gave the G. O. P. fifteen districts sure, and the Democrats six. Some of the Legislators are not even satisfied with that, however, and now want to give the G. O. P. sixteen of the districts. Buckeye Republicans would take the earth if they thought they could hold it. The Commercial Gazette editor has the cheek to say this proposed apportionment is a fair one.

THE "green goods" swindle has been exposed time and again, but suckers still continue to bite at the luring bait. A couple of hitherto reputable citizens living back of Covington went all the way to New York a few days ago and paid the sharpers $2,000 and thought they received in turn $12,000 in bills "just as good as the genuine stuff." Their chagrin and disappointment can hardly be imagined when they found only one dollar in the package. The rest of the roll was made up of worthless paper. Since then a citizen of Sharpsburg sent on $100 for $2,000 of the money. In return he received a bundle of brown paper.

These victims don't deserve any sympathy at all. They bite at the bait with the full intention of becoming frauds themselves.

Some of the "green goods" circulars with confidential letter and alleged newspaper clipping were received recently in this city, and several parties could hardly be made believe that the clipping was a counterfeit, and had been gotten up as a part of the bait to catch the unwary.

Merchants, Be on Hand.

The Merchants Retail Commercial Agency will meet to-night at 7:30 o'clock. All members, including the Executive Committee, are requested to be present, as questions of importance to each member will be brought up for final action. By order of the President.

Near Washington, Penn., People are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago D. Byers, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one to come back." Twenty-five-cent, 50-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

Death of Mrs. John T. Shanklin. Mrs. Minnie Shanklin, wife of Mr. John T. Shanklin, died night before last at the family residence near Mayslick, of heart disease. Her remains were interred at Flemingsburg this morning at 11 o'clock, after funeral services conducted by Rev. W. C. Condit of Ashland.

Deceased was a daughter of Rev. James P. Hendrick and was a sister of Attorney General Hendrick. She was a most estimable Christian woman, greatly beloved by her large circle of friends and acquaintances.

County Court Doings.

Jacob Helmer was granted license to retail spirituous, vinous and malt liquors.

Anna E. Montjoy relinquished her right to administer on the estate of Mrs. Susan Dimmitt, and R. Soward was appointed administrator and qualified with Joseph F. Perrie as surety. Appraisers, J. B. Peters, C. A. Tucker and David White.

C. L. Anderson was appointed administrator of Jane L. Nelson, and executed bond with W. H. Wadsworth as surety. Appraisers, Jos. M. Alexander, James E. Cahill and J. B. Key.

Held For Further Trial.

The examining trial of Clark Gilbert at Vanceburg for the murder of George Darnell in 1885 resulted in his being held over to answer the charge at the next term of the Lewis Circuit Court. Gilbert, Darnell and others were returning home from a dance on the night of the killing. They were drinking and became involved in a quarrel when Park Gilbert, a brother of Clark, struck young Darnell on the head with a jug, almost knocking him senseless for a short time. When he recovered he said he could whip the party who struck him, and then it is claimed Clark Gilbert stabbed him from the effects of which he died a day or two afterwards.

Here and There.

Dr. Skinner, of Flemingsburg, is in town.

Mr. Smoot Madden, of Fayette County, is visiting his uncle Mr. Robert Terhune, near Tuckahoe.

Mrs. Garrett S. Wall has returned from a visit to her daughter, who is attending school at Avondale.

Miss Ida Knight, of Washington, is visiting Miss Minnie Ross, at Johnson Station, Fleming County.

Dr. A. H. Wall and wife left for Mt. Sterling Wednesday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Judge Apperson.

Miss Maria Boyd and Mrs. Frank Boyd, Jr., of Minerva, are visiting their sister, Mrs. J. O. Pickrell, of East Second street.

Dr. Samuel Coming to Maysville.

Dr. J. H. Samuel has disposed of his residence at Flemingsburg to Dr. C. W. Aitkin for $5,000, and will locate soon in this city. The Times-Democrat says: "Dr. Samuel is a physician well equipped in all branches of his profession, and we wish him success in his new field. His wife's father and brothers living in Maysville we suppose influenced the change, as the Doctor has a good practice here."

Dr. Samuel will occupy the two-story brick residence on Third street recently sold by Mr. John N. Thomas. The sale was made to him instead of to his father-in-law Mr. R. B. Lovel as first announced. The Doctor and his family will receive a warm welcome from their many friends in this city.

River News.

The M. P. Wells has been at Augusta several days receiving a fresh coat of paint.

The Hudson will pass down this evening and City of Madison to-night. Due up to-night: Andes for Pittsburg and Telegraph for Pomeroy.

Proctorville News: "The little Chevalier, owned by the Bay Brothers, of Iron-ton, has been running away from everything that tried to keep up with her, but finally got left, last Saturday, when the new Telegraph passed her and left her away behind."

A Popular Arrangement.

Commencing April 4th, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will inaugurate a series of weekly excursions to Cincinnati, O. Tickets will be sold for trains 17 and 19 on Mondays only, good returning until the following Wednesday, at one fare for the round trip. These excursions will be continued until further notice.

Tourists,

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headache and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

MRS. JOHN ROURKE, whose serious illness has been mentioned, was taken suddenly worse yesterday and died this morning at 4 o'clock, at the home of the family at Washington. She leaves, besides her husband, a family of four sons and three daughters. She was a devoted wife and mother, a kind neighbor and friend, and withal a most worthy Christian woman. She will be buried at Washington next Sunday.

MARSHAL DICK HARRIS, of Manchester, came down yesterday afternoon and arrested a man named Frank Lewis, who is wanted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The officer imagined he had as much authority in Kentucky as he has in Ohio, but soon learned better and started to swear out a warrant. While he was hunting a Justice of the Peace, Lewis escaped.

CONSTABLE DAWSON arrested Becky Bradford and Isaacs Smith last evening on a charge of adultery. The couple have been living in the old Daulton house in the West End. The woman's husband is in Cincinnati, and Smith's wife is at Covington. The case came up before Squire Grant this morning for trial, but was continued until next Wednesday.

Neuralgia Cured in Fifteen Minutes.

Mr. J. S. Sturtevant, editor of the Waupaca (Wis.) Post, says: "Last night Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured my wife of neuralgia of the face and tooth in fifteen minutes. We would not be without it." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexandria, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Three of our colored gents were sent to the Maysville jail this week for disturbing an entertainment given at the Colored Baptist Church.

J. A. Jackson and son will go from Carlisle to visit his son at Shawan, and then to Paris and from there to Can Ridge, to visit his mother-in-law.

J. A. Jackson is now receiving a large stock of men's, ladies' and children's shoes direct from Baltimore. He defies competition both in quality and price. Give him a call.

Elder Simmons, of the Baptist Church, has tendered his resignation and will leave in a few days for some point in Virginia. We are sorry Brother Simmons is going to leave us.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

[Wednesday.] The "breaks" were of very fair size, there being 243 hds. of and 486 of new, making 729 hds. in all, which was 125 more than the corresponding day last week.

There was a fair attendance of buyers, and they were bidding very well.

Old trashes and lugs were in better demand, and the market was firmer. The common and medium grades of old were in fair request, and prices were steady.

Only a very few hds. of good old on sale; no choice.

New trashes, as also lugs, were in fair request, and the market was slightly improved.

Other grades of new were in good demand, and the market steady and firm.

PASSED THE SENATE.

The Separate Coach Bill Goes Through By a Vote of 18 to 10.

The House Passes the Measure to Make Toll-roads Free to Certain Parties.

The State Senate resumed consideration yesterday morning of the bill requiring railroad companies to provide separate coaches for colored people.

The Lindsay amendment, which provides that a compartment of a car shall be considered a separate coach within the meaning of the act was adopted.

Senator Newman's two amendments were also adopted, perfecting the language of the bill, and Mr. Breckinridge's amendment to insure equal accommodations for the colored was also adopted.

The bill then passed by a vote of 18 to 10. Senators Mulligan, Newman, McCain and May voted with the Republicans against it. A motion to table a motion to reconsider was adopted by the same vote.

The bill now goes to the House, where it will likely be adopted also.

The bill fixes a penalty of from $500 to $1,500 for a failure to comply with its provisions. The conductors or managers on all railroads shall have power, and are required to assign each passenger to his or her respective car or coach or compartment. If the car is divided, and should any passenger refuse to occupy the car, coach or compartment to which he or she may be assigned by the conductor or manager, said conductor or manager shall have the right to refuse to carry such passenger on his train; and for such refusal, the manager, conductor or company shall not be liable for damage in any court.

Any conductor or manager on any railroad, who shall fail or refuse to carry out the provisions above shall upon conviction, be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense. The provisions of this act shall not apply to employees of railroads, or persons employed as nurses, or officers in charge of prisoners.

In the House Thursday morning Speaker Moore announced the committee to investigate the charges against Representative McInerny. It is composed of Representatives Thomas H. Shanks, Thomas S. Pettit, B. B. Hensly, Berry Howard and W. J. Hissem.

The House passed the bill to make toll roads free to ministers of the gospel in prosecution of their occupation, pupils going to and from schools, and people going to and from church on Sunday.

An effort was made in the Senate to reconsider the attorneys' bill so as to get in an amendment to increase the fees of county attorneys, but failed.

A RIVER DISASTER.

A Valuable Steamer Burned at Cincinnati and Several Lives Were Lost.

A Number of Passengers Jump Into the River, but Most of Them Are Rescued.

[By telegraph to the BULLETIN.]

CINCINNATI, April 1.—The steamer Golden Rule was totally destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon, and with it the Big Sandy wharfboat, both of which were loaded with tons of freight. The deck hands first discovered the blaze at 4:20. The fire started amidships at the fire doors of the boilers, where it is said some coal oil was stored, ready for shipment. In a flash they had been communicated to the rubbish, and from thence to the lighter freight.

In twenty minutes the whole structure was enveloped in a seething, roaring mass of fire. As there was a large consignment of freight aboard, and a number of passengers, the boat was not immediately released from the wharf. By reason of this the wharfboat was soon ablaze, and before the fire department, which was summoned as hastily as possible, could do anything, was also doomed.

The burning boat soon broke loose from its moorings and started to drift helplessly down the stream, and soon sank.

It was feared at first that a number of the passengers had been unable to escape, and bystanders thought they could discern cries of help, but it is believed that nearly all the passengers and crew escaped, some by jumping into the river, from which they were rescued by skiffs.

Nellie Maloney, of Seventh and Smith, who had been visiting some friends, jumped into the river and has not been seen since. It is known that she was drowned.

Mrs. D. M. Devereux, of the San Rafael building, was one of those rescued and taken to the Kentucky side. Her husband escaped by jumping from the burning boat to the Fleetwood.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, of 226 Main street, and Minnie and Annie, her two daughters, are missing.

One of the crew, Mat Homer, is unaccounted for, and is supposed to have drowned.

Several passengers who escaped lost their entire wardrobes.

Lieutenant Jack Connors, of fire company No. 18, was probably fatally injured, and taken to the hospital. A rafter fell and crushed his head while he was fighting the flames with his company on the wharfboat.

As soon as the fire was discovered, all the other boats at the landing were immediately cut loose and steered out into the current.

Nothing remains of the wharfboat but the heavy rafters.

The steamer Golden Rule was one of the largest vessels out from Cincinnati, and, during the season, ran between this city and New Orleans. She was owned and commanded by Captain Oliver P. Shinkle. At the time of the disaster she was loaded with freight preparatory to leaving port. The vessel was valued at about $25,000, and was insured for $15,000.

The cargo was worth $50,000.

The wharfboat was valued at $10,000.

All of this is a total loss.

OVER $1,000 has been subscribed to rebuild the Minerva M. E. Church, South. Of this sum Mr. Robert Whipple, of Minerva, gave $200; Judge J. C. Grove, of Dover, $25, and Mr. Frank Collins, of Dover, $25.

BALLINGER, the jeweler, has secured more commodious quarters just east of Mitchell, Finch & Co.'s Bank, and will move into the new store soon. In the meantime you can secure anything in the jewelry line at his old stand.

ARRANGEMENTS have been closed for a race at the fair grounds April 14 between Mr. Thomas Guillfoyle's "Black Bess" and Mr. James Butler's "Hellene," for a purse of $100. The owners are to drive and there will no doubt be a big crowd out to see the contest.

ROBT. WALKER, of Mt. Gilead, and Henry Bendel, of this city, have been notified through their attorney, M. C. Hutchins, that pensions have been granted them, Mr. Walker at the rate of $8 per month from August 21, 1891; Mr. Bendel, $12 per month from July 18, 1891.

THE "Red Skin" tobacco factory is now owned and operated by Messrs. White, Haucke & Co., Messrs. J. L. Daulton & J. W. Roden having retired from the firm. The "Red Skin" is an excellent brand of smoking and chewing tobacco and the firm report an increasing demand for it. They have a fine trade.

C. C. MOORE, editor of the Blue Grass Blade, was tried Wednesday at Paris and fined $100 for maliciously libeling members of the Christian Church at that place. The jury was out only a few minutes. The following gentleman composed the jury: Capt. J. H. Bradshaw, Charles Stephens and J. N. Allen, Baptists; J. C. Stewart, Presbyterian; J. H. Letton, Christian (Millersburg Church); Frank Colcord, a professor under Bro. Barnes.

AN INSANE MOTHER.

She Leaps from a Third-Story Window with Her Child in Her Arms.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Mrs. Margaret Doane, a handsome middle-aged woman, the wife of a produce dealer doing business in Washington market, threw herself with her five-year-old son Frank from the third story of her residence, 259 Elsworth street, Hoboken, yesterday morning. Mrs. Doane's arm and leg were broken and she was probably fatally injured internally. Her boy's skull was fractured and his death is looked for at any moment.

The affair created intense excitement in the neighborhood, where the residents are mostly wealthy New York business men.

About 2:30 in the morning Mrs. Doane left her room and entered the apartment where her husband and child were fast asleep. Without awakening her husband she lifted the boy from the bed and carried him to the parlor window and opened the blinds. The little fellow was awake by this time and struggled and screamed in his mother's arms.

Mr. Doane was awakened by the child's screams, and was horrified to see his wife leap from the window to the sidewalk. Policeman Ryan, who quickly arrived on the scene, summoned an ambulance and mother and son were taken to St. Mary's hospital, where the physicians said there was little chance for either's recovery.

About two months ago Mrs. Doane gave birth to a child, and since then she has acted strangely. Three weeks ago, accompanied by her twenty-one-year-old daughter, she called on Police Captain Hayes and asked to be committed to some institution, as she was often seized with a desire to kill herself and her children.

An Insane Man's Death.

CONNERSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The attack made by Stephen Burk, a prominent farmer of this county, while insane, upon his wife, in which she was fatally injured, is particularly sad. For some time Mr. Burk's mental condition has been noticeable, but it was hoped it would pass away. His family had no fear of him. While his wife was sleeping, however, he attacked her with a stove stick, until her face and head was a mass of cuts and bruises. Mrs. Burk is a daughter of Rev. Samuel Harlan, and both are members of pioneer families of the Whitewater valley. They have been married seventeen years, and their domes'c relations were pleasant. There are two children.

CLOSING DOWN MOVEMENT.

All the Big Silver Mines in Colorado Have Ceased Operation.

DENVER, April 1.—The closing down movement in the big mines of Colorado continues. A general consternation is prevalent in all the silver producing sections of the state. The big Larman mine in the Idaho Springs district, has given the men its ultimatum—either accept a reduction of fifty cents per day or close down. Henry R. Wolcott, brother of United States Senator Wolcott, said that his company was considering the closing down of the Last Chance at Creede, the heaviest producer in that camp.

Dr. Haal paid off all the top men on the Aspen mine yesterday. A miner employed there said that the entire force expect to be laid off on the 4th. The 5th is their payday. Judge Hailey B. Morse admits that he is going to close down all of his silver properties in Gilpin county. Other properties are considering the advisability of shutting down.

Bismarck's Warning.

LONDON, April 1.—A dispatch to The Times from Paris says that Prince Bismarck told a friend recently that he had warned Emperor William when he quitted the office of chancellor that the artisans, whom the emperor desired to regenerate, would prove ungrateful and that he might see even a repetition of the scenes of 1848.

Spoke Factory Snuts Down.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The spoke factory of the American Wheel company, which started up with a full force of seventy men a couple of weeks ago, has partially shut down. Fifty sawyers and turners are temporarily out of work, owing, Superintendent Miles says, to an over supply of wheels on the market.

Soldiers on the March.

ST. PAUL, April 1.—Troops F and G, cavalry, Colonel Reuben F. Bernard, commanding with four officers, left Fort Yates yesterday, and two companies of the Third infantry, from Fort Snelling, will leave tomorrow for service on the Sisseton and Wahpeton Indian reservations.

Ex-Senator Livingston Dead.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 1.—Ex-Senator Robert L. Livingston died suddenly yesterday of apoplexy at his home in Plainfield, N. J. He was fifty-five years of age and was a member of the New Jersey senate from 1884 to 1887. He was a Democrat.

A Gambler the First Man Shot.

DENVER, April 1.—Creede's first murder occurred at 3:30 yesterday morning. Captain Light shot and killed McCann, a gambler, in Long's saloon. Light is a bad man and has not yet been captured.

Afraid of Old Vesuvius.

NAPLES, April 1.—The people are again in dread of an eruption of Vesuvius. The flow of lava is redder than usual, and other signs indicate danger.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 1.—The first train over the high bridge just completed over the Pecos canyon, which is 328 feet high and 2,180 feet long, comprised of coaches bearing C. P. Huntington and a distinguished party of Southern Pacific officials and guests from Mexico. Mr. Huntington proceeded to El Paso, where he will meet Jay Gould.

Safe Burglarized.

ELROY, Wis., April 1.—The safe of the City bank at this place was opened by burglars about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and about $3,500 secured. The robbers escaped, and it is supposed left on the southbound train, going either to Chicago or Milwaukee, where detectives are on the watch for them.

RIVER MEN ON A STRIKE.

Two Thousand Laborers Idle on the St. Louis Levee.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—The threatened river strike is on, and over 2,000 negro laborers are idle on the levee. Four steamers arrived Wednesday night and are unable to land their cargoes. A number of boats are lying at their docks waiting to be loaded, but are unable to get a pound of freight carried on board.

The cause of the strike is a demand by the marine firemen that the union scale of wages be paid, and none but union men be employed on the boats. This was refused by the owners, and a tie up of river traffic is the consequence.

The marine firemen struck work yesterday and were followed by the members of the longshoremen and roustabout's union. The men are quiet and orderly and no serious trouble is anticipated. They are firm in their demands, however, and say the company must accede to their terms. As the men on a strike are all negroes, thoroughly organized, and members of the Federation of Labor, it is believed they will force the company to accept their request. The general opinion among river men is that the strike will last but a few days.

The Anchor line pays union wages and employs none but union men, and no strike is being waged against that company. The Cherokee line is the main point of attack, and the feeling against Commodore Herold was so strong on account of his refusal to treat with the strikers that at 10 o'clock yesterday a "levee boycott" was declared against the Cherokee and Home breweries, owned by him, and levee saloons, which expect the strikers' patronage, were notified that the beer of those breweries would not be drank by any river negro who had the interests of himself and fellows at heart. The strikers confidently expect that the strike will soon end in victory for them.

Danger on Every Hand.

An electric light wire caused a fire in a Pittsburg store the other day. It was very simple. The insulation coating was worn off, and the wire rubbed itself into a flame among the stock in a show window. The result was blaze that would no doubt have destroyed the whole building had it taken place in the night, when no one was about, instead of in the daytime. As it was, the fire department responded promptly, and the store was saved, with comparatively slight damage. But the danger to life and property from the general use of electricity for illuminating purposes is growing from year to year.

In so many homes the convenient white incandescent light has taken the place of the yellow, flaring gas, that the peril from bare wires is growing greater from year to year. The natural gas fires that are liable to spring up in the night and set fire to the house is one source of danger and the electric light wire is another. Then there are burglars, sneak thieves and other perils, so that altogether the Pittsburg householder is in the midst of dangers that require all his ingenuity to meet.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

A Copper Plated Ceiling.

The use of copper in decorative metal work is largely on the increase, by reason of the ease with which it can be used in various electroplating processes. The electrotyping of metal has been carried so far that entire shop fronts are constructed by this process. One of the ceilings of the Equitable building is made of electroplated copper on wood, which exhibits the capabilities of this beautiful method of interior decoration.—Decorator and Furnisher.

A Curious Funeral Ceremony.

It is said that when Alaric, the conqueror of Rome, died that "a river was turned aside to make place in its bed for his grave, and when he was buried the water was again let into its former channel, and the prisoners who had helped to bury him were killed so that no one might find out where the conqueror of Rome was buried.

The river thus turned was the Busento, and the place near Cosento, Italy.—St. Louis Republic.

Enticing Lobsters to Death.

In the neighborhood of the Bermudas the sea is extremely transparent, so that the fishermen can readily see the horns of lobsters protruding from their hiding places in the rocks at considerable depths. To entice the crustaceans from these crannies they tie a lot of snails in a ball and dangle them in front of the cautious lobster. When he grabs the ball they haul him up.—Interview in Washington Star.

Sir W. Aitken, professor in the Army Medical school, has called the attention of the government to the condition of the British army, and asserted that it was largely made up of boy soldiers who have not reached complete physical development as regards the bones, muscles or internal organs.

The subterranean rivers of the world of which the one in the Mammoth cave of Kentucky, is usually reckoned as the most unique, are generally set down in lists of natural curiosities as being the greatest wonders in the line of water ways.

A hundred years ago the Russian tongue was spoken by nearly 31,000,000 and the Spanish by more than 26,000,000. Even the Italian had three-fourths as large a constituency as the English, and the Portuguese three-eights.
